• A Letter From Our President - Liz Horning

Happy September! Artyfolks,

Well, what a bummer of a summer this has been. But for a few kind-of-rainy days and the odd violent, but very brief, downpour, it has been, up until now at least, truly the most pathetic monsoon I've ever seen, (outside of Phoenix anyway). The season should be coming to a close pretty soon, but up until this week, I've barely had a weed to whack. I guess I shouldn't complain about that, but at the moment, I don't have a whole lot else to complain about.

Preparations for Art in the Park have been going very well, and Lois reports that almost all our available vendor spaces have been filled. Now I'm just praying that this year's reluctant monsoon will finally get its act together, do its thing, and cooperate at least enough to green up the grass in the park.

Meanwhile, at the Gallery in September, we will have a new show – our annual Student Show, presenting the work of many of the people who have taken classes and workshops with us over the past year. This is one of the very few shows for which you do not need to be an HAA member to exhibit your work in the gallery. It will be open to adults and children alike, and the reception will be on Saturday, September 2, from 3-5pm, as usual.

Speaking of shows, at the last meeting of the Board, we decided to go back to having new featured artists every month. But now, to ease the burden on the hanging crew, we'll only be doing the full change out every other month. We're hoping that this will provide more opportunities for people to be featured artists, and also give us a fresh look and a new reception every month. It also means that Sue Ziegler will be looking for more people who'd like to be featured, so if you are one of those people, let her know.

Also, for the studio, Nathaniel Zorat-Russell has proposed something that would be novel for us – a class for all ages, to be held on Sundays. Parents could bring their children if they wished (or not) and everybody would get to participate in the art activities together. More information on that will be forthcoming soon.

Enjoy what's left of the summer of '23 and be kind to every tarantula you meet,

Liz

Attention Artists of All Mediums, not including Table Art or Jewelry.

The Warrior Healing Center, which assists all Veterans with 50 programs and is located across the street from HAA, is looking for artists to share their time and talents by offering art classes to veterans. They are also looking for more artists to feature on their many brightly painted and lighted halls, which currently feature paintings by Pam Carona, Sue Thatcher, and the late Jack Miller, as well as other artists, including photographers. If you would like to show for sale there, please bring in your art to the Center with tags that include your Name, the Title of your art, and Price. Also a list for Kathy, with the same info plus your contact info. They will hang them for you and if a piece sells, the Warrior Healing Center gets 20% commission. This is great for name recognition, not to mention the help to our community, plus you could add to your art's title card, "See more at the Huachuca Art Association Studio, across the street!" If you have any questions or would like to volunteer to teach an art class at the center, please call Sue Thatcher 520-266-4508. She has enjoyed both teaching and showing there over the years!
