GALLERY HOURS. TUESDAY THROUGH SATURDAY 11 am to 5 PM

Here Comes the Show!

It is time for the 3rd annual Open Judged Show and as of this publication, the due date for paperwork is here and we're anticipating the art "drop off" day and filling the walls (and tables) with Amateur, Intermediate & Advanced art of Many different media (including Oil, Acrylic, Mixed Media, Graphics, 3D art, Jewelry and more). Our show committee and our show Director, Teresa Ebbs informed us the judges are lined up, and we have volunteers to assist the change out crew with putting up the show! Hope we see you at the reception, but if you can't make it, there is a fun drawing we are doing throughout the month- Come see the art, do our "treasure hunt" and enter your answer slip for a chance to win one of two gift certificates to be drawn at the March featured artist reception.

GALLERY CHANGE OUT: Judged show Art in Jan26

Articles Due for Mar 2020 Artyfacts by Sunday February 8th

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Happy February, Artyfolks,

Well, my Christmas tree is finally put back on its shelf in the closet, and the wreath is off the door, so except for digging the shiny bits out of the carpet, my holiday season is officially over. And it was just the morning after Christmas when a crew of volunteers showed up at the gallery, armed with ladders and spackle, to begin the process of repairing the damage done by more than three years of monthly picture hanging. That was followed the next day by the arrival of the wall-painting crew with their paint and rollers, and thanks to all of these volunteer helpers, the whole wall restoration project was completed in less than two days.

It looks a lot better now, and is in fine shape for the installation of our 3rd Annual Open Judged Show. Any of you who were planning to enter the show should already have submitted your applications, and now be busy ordering your tuxes and ball gowns, and be consulting with your PR people on the contents and tone of your acceptance speeches. Oh no, I'm sorry. I'm told that's just for the Oscars. But, as I suspect not many of us have been invited to that other event, we'll just have to make the most of what we've got going here, by showing up at the reception with bells on, and maybe with some friends and neighbors in tow.

Even aside from the holidays, December was a very busy month, what with the Symphony project and the Wall @the Mall, and I want to thank all of the people who submitted work for either or both of them. All of it is helpful, not only to the individual artists who participate, but also in raising the profile of the HAA as a whole. And now having our 3rd Open Judged Show will only add to that, so I also want to thank Teresa Ebbs and Robin Lara for all of the work they have already put into getting it organized, and in advance to them and to all the other volunteers for all the work that's yet to come.

Happy Valentine's Day!

Liz Horning

Thanks to all who came to Meta Geske's alcohol inks demo. They got to watch and play around with their own and Sue told them how to make some themselves with old markers and some (rubbing) alcohol...

The Mirage (art magazine by Cochise College) for 2019 is out. Congratulations to members Joyce Genske (Photograph of Watson Lake at Night) and Tina Durham (first place Poetry).
